Product Description

Double success Team Schubert Motorsport was able to celebrate twice at the end of the 2022 DTM season: after the team had already secured the team title before the last race, the final race at Hockenheim was once again exciting. After a mass crash, only 12 cars were able to start the final race, and South African Sheldon van der Linde drove to third place among this competition - and thus claimed the trophy of DTM Champion 2022. Hot title race at home! In the battle for the crown of the 2022 DTM season, it was exciting between Sheldon van der Linde, Marco Wittmann and René Rast right up to the last day, with only you at the hand controller deciding who would take the title at the home race. For a real racing feeling, the BMW M4 GT3 "Schubert Motorsport, No.31", DTM 2022 is equipped with front, rear and brake lights, can be individually coded and digitally controlled.
