Product Description

The true legend of the skies, the American Mustang P-51D fighter aircraft, was modelled by us using 150 COBI building blocks. We have opted for a completely new scale of 1:48 for fighter aircraft from the Second World War. Now you can easily build a shelter for your giant COBI bombers! The set contains only high-quality prints with a reference to the historic livery of the aircraft. The licensed Mustang made from COBI bricks is a great compact model that will open up many a collection among aviation and military technology enthusiasts! It's also a perfect model to get your adventure with Polish COBI bricks off to a good start! The North American P-51 Mustang is an American single-engine fighter aircraft used in World War II. It was manufactured at North American Aviation plants in the USA. Successfully used by the US Air Force and its allies in World War II and the Korean War. The highly successful 1940 design meant that the aircraft was continuously developed until 1986! Around 15,000 to 16,000 were produced in 46 years. Mustangs. Many of these aircraft are currently in private hands. To this day, Mustangs are eagerly used for demonstration flights and sports competitions.
