Product Description

Stick together! That's the motto in this co-operative dice game. Otherwise, the early milestones that you want to achieve as a group will come to nothing. Everyone knows their own goals, but not those of the others. And then the dice have to be shared by everyone! Collusion is not allowed and time is pressing relentlessly. How important will joint success be for the Stone Age dice throwers? How to play Milestones MBE3. The players work together to fulfil as many task cards as possible. Each player has exactly one card in their hand, which they must keep secret from the others. In turn, the players roll the dice from a common dice pool. Each player decides for themselves how many dice they want to re-roll when it is their turn. If the number or colour combination given as a task on a card is fulfilled by the dice. If the combination of numbers or colours on a card is fulfilled by the dice, the player places the card on the common points pile and draws a new card from their hand. After three minutes, the game ends and the players count the victory points they have scored together. The game is made more challenging in different variations, e.g. with mandatory tasks that are displayed face up or an hourglass card that gives players more time.
