Product Description

The EXECUTIVE EDITION version of the Citroen Traction AVANT 11CV car, released under licence by the automotive giant from France, is a set that will help you build the history of the automotive industry block by block! The original car was produced between 1937 and 1957. It featured a self-supporting body and front-wheel drive. The car's widely used and unofficial name is Traction Avant, which means "front-wheel drive" in French.

The Executive Edition set featuring the Citroen Traction 11CV car has been carefully designed from COBI building blocks with up to 2,120 high-quality elements. The car adds to the ever-growing collection of vehicles released in large 1:12 scale! This means that the car is huge and 37 cm long!

Consisting of over 2,000 elements, the set is not only a car with moving wheels and opening doors, but also a working steering wheel and rotating wheels, a tilting bonnet, an opening boot, a mapped appearance of the engine and numerous interior details recreated from blocks.

The Executive Edition version has been enriched with a block display stand for the car. The whole thing is rounded off by a black plate with the car's name attached to the base. Citroen Traction is a must for mature fans of automotive history, technology and building blocks. The high aesthetic value of the model makes it difficult to pass by indifferently. Citroen is perfect as an element of interior decoration and as part of a car lover's collection.

The construction of the kit is simple. The blocks have been divided into numbered bags. Clear and intuitive instructions based on legible symbols easily guide the builder through the entire assembly process.

The set has been 100% manufactured in Poland in the European Union.
