Product Description

The fantasy football game enters its second round. The second season is no slouch either and there's certainly no room for squeamishness here. Small teams and simple rules ensure fast-paced action on the game board. With this Feldherr foam set for your "Blitz Bowl Season 2" board game box, we ensure a healthy bit of order and make sure that nothing happens to the miniatures outside the playing field. The insert fits exactly into the original GamesWorkshop game box and ensures that models and game material are protected and organised. You have a total of 12 compartments available for the miniatures. Individual, precisely cut compartments made of soft foam reliably protect the intricate details of your miniatures from damage. Chipped or scratched acrylic colours on painted figures are also a thing of the past. From now on, you can pack the box in your bag and don't have to worry about the figures sliding around in the box, bumping into each other and your quarterback having one less throwing arm. The remaining compartments help you to organise your game material. Balls, coins and score markers are allocated five compartments. Place the larger player cards in the large card compartment. The two smaller decks go in the other compartment. Finger-wide recesses make it easier to remove the decks of cards. Both compartments are only suitable for playing cards without sleeves. Two compartments remain for storing the dice. The matching foam lid completes the all-round supply. Place the trainer block, the throwing template, spare benches, the game board and the rule book on top and everything is neatly and safely stowed away.
