Product Description

If you own a large Craftworlds collection, you know exactly what treasures you have at your disposal. Our tip: Protect your models properly - ideally with our DS storage box filled to the brim with matching foam! The insert for the Wraithknight is in two parts. The lower part has a compartment tailored precisely to the Wraithknight. This ensures optimum protection for the heavily armed battlefield statue - sensitive parts such as the phantom blaster and ghost glaive are reliably protected from damage. The colours of the painted figure also remain intact. The compartments next to them hold the units for quick attacks. 4 compartments are reserved for Aeldari warriors on jetbikes, such as Windriders or Skyrunners. A fifth, slightly larger compartment serves as a car park for a Vyper. All five vehicles, including the base, fit into the compartments. Once you have sorted your miniatures into the lower section, simply place the upper section, which has a precisely fitting cut-out for the towering parts of the Wraithknight, on top. The higher parts of the miniature are now protected all round and the vehicles are completely covered. The two foam inserts for the anti-grav vehicles of your Aeldari army each have a compartment cut to fit the miniature, which can accommodate either a Wave Serpent troop carrier or a Falcon battle tank. Thanks to the precise cut, the models stay in place during transport and do not slide around. Sensitive details such as the shuriken cannon or pulse laser therefore remain intact. In addition to the compartments for the anti-grav vehicles, the two inserts each have two further compartments. The compartments are suitable for storing character models such as Eldrad Ulthran or the Autarch.
