Product Description

The Assassin's Creed has become second nature to you by now. You've been waiting a long time for the hit video game to be turned into a board game. Now the time has finally come and you have been able to purchase all the unlocked stretch goals from the Kickstarter campaign in addition to the basic game. To make sure you never lose sight of your goal with all the figures and game material, we have designed a matching set for the original base game box. In the foam insert, you can transport your figures to the next mission without any broken blades or details and organise your game material neatly and tidily in the plastic trays. A true assassin looks after his weapons until they are an extension of himself. Unfavourable if these weapons are already damaged before the mission. To prevent you from standing in front of your targets without weapons, one-armed and headless, we have packed 2 foam mats for your miniatures in the board game box. Whether Assassin or Templar, each figure has its own compartment. The miniatures fit snugly thanks to the customised cut. Even when being transported through different eras, the models do not bump into each other. This protects the weapons and other details from damage. The soft, fine-pored foam also ensures that the colours of painted miniatures are preserved and do not scratch or flake off. We have added 2 token holders made of robust plastic to the foam inserts so that your game material is always well sorted. Here you can organise dice, tokens and playing cards as you wish. The small-format cards fit into the large compartments, while the large-format cards from the envelopes are stored in the recesses of the trays. Of course, all cards also fit into their storage locations with protective sleeves. As everything is clearly organised, you'll save yourself the hassle of searching for individual game components in the future and setting up and tidying up is child's play. You can spend the time you save playing games. Because after the mission, the next one follows.
