Product Description

To make sure you don't lose your bearings in the catacombs of New Jerusalem, Feldherr has created a foam set that allows you to organise your game materials and store them safely in the "Claustrophobia 1643" board game box. The fine-pored foam offers reliable protection against damage to Cerberus, Guardian & Co - sensitive parts such as weapons remain intact, surfaces are spared scratches and abrasion. The first foam insert has 11 custom-fit compartments for medium and large miniatures such as The Scourge and Cerberus. Place this insert in the elongated recess of the plastic insert of the original board game box. The insert with the 34 compartments is placed on the plastic insert in the board game box and offers space for 14 smaller miniatures such as Troglodytes and 10 medium-sized miniatures such as The Brood Mother. The compartments for the medium-sized figures fit perfectly. You can store cards (sleeved or unsleeved), tokens and dice in the remaining compartments of the insert. The other game components - character sheets and boards, rule and scenario books, game board components, Prima Materia Gems and damage markers - are sorted into the compartments provided in the plastic insert or placed on the foam set in the board game box.
