Product Description

Organisation and overview for your Rising Sun board game! All the game material in the basic box can be easily and clearly stored in these three practical foam inserts. The set stands approx. 6-7 cm above the edge of the box. The set consists of three different foam inserts. Each clan has its own area on the inserts. The areas are labelled with clan symbols so that you can get a quicker overview when sorting. All corresponding components and miniatures can be stored in the appropriate compartments. For the clan miniatures, the compartments have been designed so that there is space for every miniature with a base. The clans are distributed across two foam inserts. The monsters are stored in the third compartment. This means that all miniatures are protected and can always be found at a glance. You can place the game board and the clan screens on or under the foam.
