Product Description

With its first appearance on European soil at the Creventic 24H Series, the new KTM X-BOW GTX 2021 was able to clinch its next victory directly after its success at the Japanese Super Taikyu Series. Did the legendary Felbermayr colours play a role in this? After all, the blue and yellow racing car is predestined for long-distance racing and was used for many years in the 24-hour race. On the big race track, Horst Felbermayr, the head of the Upper Austrian company, is at the wheel himself, while on the Carrera race track you have to prove your skills with the hand controller. Will the legendary design of the true-to-original model also bring you luck? Thanks to the digital coder, the car can be converted to digital. Equipped with front and rear lights, nothing stands in the way of your triumph.
