Product Description

For safe storage and transport of all miniatures and accessories in the original game box. "Power Rangers: Heroes of the Grid" is an exciting game that combines elements of a classic board game with "Magic the Gathering" and strategy. You don't play against each other, but with each other. For unadulterated gaming fun with your friends, all Power Rangers and their opponents want to be softly bedded so that they don't have to collect damage points on the way to your friends. The Feldherr foam set has a customised compartment for every figure, card, token and dice. From the smallest enemy soldier to the final boss - every figure has its own compartment. This keeps the miniatures safely in place while travelling and protects all components from damage. Cards do not bend. Tokens do not get lost. The colours of the painted figures cannot scratch or flake off. The upper foam insert has 24 compartments for the soldier figures, the lower foam insert has 5 compartments for the monsters and the boss and 5 for the Power Rangers. Also in the lower foam insert: 2 card compartments in the middle - also suitable with sleeves. The "Character Cards" and half of the "Deployment Cards" (laid across them) fit into the larger of the two. This leaves 5 compartments for the tokens and 1 compartment for the dice. The foam inserts are stacked in the box and covered with the foam lid supplied. Everything is securely packed in foam all round, making it ideal for storage and transport. The larger cardboard pieces (the "location boards") are placed on the foam lid in the same way as the game instructions.
