Product Description

With the Feldherr foam set for the "Marvel United: X-Men" basic game box, all the contents can be stored neatly and safely. A supervillain is threatening the city. But he didn't count on you. You are Wolverine. You sprint to your death, dodge deadly projectiles, jump up, spin in the air, take a swing and burst into flames. You notice that your miniature's claws have broken off. You can't find the card for your self-heal in the chaos of your game box. And so you go down in flames. To prevent your adventure from taking such a dramatic turn, we support you with the matching Feldherr foam set for your basic game box. Soft foam protects your figures from damage such as parts breaking off and your game material can be neatly organised in the compartments. This means you have everything to hand and are ready to play in no time at all. The ten miniatures are safely stored in the foam insert. Whether hero or villain, claw-armoured Wolverine or giant Juggernaut, there is a suitable compartment for every figure. The precisely fitting compartments prevent the miniatures from sliding around and bumping into each other. This means Wolverine keeps his claws and Professor X keeps his head and no fine details break off. The soft foam reliably protects painted miniatures from scratches and chipped paint. With almost 200 cards, over 150 markers and the rest of the game material, it can quickly become confusing in the game box and significantly spoil the fun of the game. That's why there are ten compartments in the foam insert for your game material. This allows you to store cards, tokens and other game material neatly and clearly. The two large compartments are used to store your playing cards. Of course, your cards will also fit with protective sleeves. As the set was designed for cards without protective sleeves, some cards must be stored separately. You can store your tokens and the rogue progress marker in the remaining small compartments, sorted by type. The foam lid supplied completes the set. This ensures that the miniatures are securely packed all round and nothing can knock against the lid of the box during transport. On the lid you can place the game instructions, the 8 locations, the mission plan and the four rogue tableaus.
