Product Description

The large complete set of box inserts and storage box for tidy storage and safe transport of the basic game and all expansions of the Second Edition. Lovecraftian horror has been spreading across your gaming table in the Second Edition since 2016. In addition to the basic game, there are now seven expansions stacked up on your shelf. And because the horror looks even better in colour, you've started painting the miniatures. So it's high time you tidied up. We'll be happy to help you. With this Feldherr Bundle, you have all the figures and accessories from the 2nd Edition base game to the "Path of the Serpent" safely and neatly stowed away. The bundle consists of: Five foam sets as inserts for the following board game boxes:- "Mansions of Madness Second Edition" - base game (AF05Set) - "Horrific Journeys" expansion (AF27Set) - "Beyond the Threshold" expansion (AS050VD05) - "Streets of Arkham" expansion (AF09Set) - "Path of the Serpent" expansion (AF55Set) As well as a Feldherr storage box LBBG250 incl. foam inserts (LBBG09) for the miniatures and game material from the following boxes:- "Recurring Nightmares" expansion - "Suppressed Memories" expansion - "Sanctum of Twilight" expansion This gives you everything you need to store your collection properly. The five foam sets help you to organise the miniatures and game material in the original board game boxes. For the other three expansions, the foam-filled storage box LBBG250 offers you a compact solution for storage and transport. From the Shoggoths and the Cthonians to the dogs of Tindalos and the investigators - every figure (including the base) has a suitable compartment. Thanks to the precise cut, the miniatures stay in place during transport. Nothing slips around and no figure has to share a compartment with another. This means that not only the delicate details, such as tentacles or wings, are protected from damage. The colours of painted miniatures are also absolutely safe from scratches, paint abrasion and chipping details. In addition to protecting the models, it also keeps them tidy. All game materials are clearly organised in the boxes. This saves time and nerves when setting up the game and you will never lose a marker or dice again. The matching foam lid is also supplied with each box for all-round protection. The LBBG storage box is made of coated, double-walled cardboard in a subtle Feldherr design. The lightweight material and carrying handle make it ideal for clearly organised storage and easy transport of your "Mansions of Madness" collection. Dimensions of the LBBG250 storage box:- Inside: 300 mm x 300 mm x 250 mm- Outside: 320 mm x 320 mm x 260 mm- High-quality, fine-pored foam - Made in Germany- Chlorine-free and acid-free
