Product Description

To be successful in "Clash of Rage", you should have your army well organised. With our foam set for the original board game box, you can organise and protect your game materials in the best possible way. In the insert with 37 compartments, there is a separate compartment for each of the 31 large miniatures of the four armies. Surrounded by our fine-pored foam, your figures are protected from damage in the best possible way - delicate parts are preserved and the colour applied to painted miniatures remains intact. 1 further, large compartment is used to store large, sleeved or unsleeved cards. The other 5 compartments are for tokens. The insert with 51 compartments has 36 compartments for the small miniatures of the four armies and 10 compartments for tokens and dice. There are also 4 large card compartments and 1 small card compartment. Once you have sorted the game components into the trays, place the matching foam lid on top to ensure that nothing falls out. Place the large game components - Region Tiles, Stronghold Tiles, Clan Sheets, Campaign Books and Rulebooks - either under the foam set in the game box or on top of the foam set. Now just close the lid and you're ready to go.
