Product Description

Compatible with Arkham Horror 3rd Edition and the expansion Midnight. You want to take on the incomprehensible eminence of cosmic horror with a few handguns and beginner spells? You must be insane! Fortunately, you can now secure a special artefact to support you: our game insert with customised compartments for all game components ensures that the crawling chaos doesn't start in the game box. ARKH consists of 15 boxes that can be removed individually. Trays 1-2 Card holder for the event cards - once for storage and once as a dispenser for the table (replaces the event deck holder included in the game) Tray 3 Card holder for the archive cards Trays 4-5 Card holder for headline cards - once for storage and once as a dispenser for the table (for the headline deck of 13 cards). The dice are stored here in the box. Trays 6-7 Card holder for anomaly cards - one for storage and one as a dispenser for the table (for the active anomaly deck) Trays 8-10 Three identical card dispensers for the encounter decks, laid out flat for optimum access and easy shuffling of the event cards Tray 11 Card holder for all small cards, sorted by type Tray 12 Holds the road pieces, investigator tokens and their plastic feet Tray 13 Holds the focus tokens (by type) and the clue/corruption tokens Tray 14 Holds damage, horror, mythos and fragment tokens Tray 15 Holds anomaly, activation, game and money tokens Anomaly, activation, game and money tokens When putting away the game board pieces (the city tiles), first place them at the bottom of the box, then stack the 15 trays around them so that they fill the box exactly. Finally, a recess remains at the top, into which the scenario and investigator sheets are placed, then the rulebooks are placed on top. The lid closes flush and no components can fall through, even if the box is stored on end. Please note There is no space in the box for the cardboard event stack holder. However, it can be replaced by a wooden one. There is also no space for the cardboard monster stack holder (from the expansion), but there is also no counterpart. Disassembled, however, it can be placed on top together with the rulebooks. Note This item is supplied as a kit that must be assembled. We recommend the use of wood glue (not included in the package). For ages 14 and up. Not a children's toy.
