Product Description

To safely store a Keeper of Secrets / Shalaxi Helbane and 4 larger miniatures of the Hedonites of Slaanesh The Keeper of Secrets recognises the desires of his opponents and then uses them against them. He is a master of seduction and loves to corrupt righteous individuals. In direct combat, he overcomes his opponents with a deadly combination of strength and speed. Games Workshop has captured both the immense strength and power of the Great Demon as well as the sensuality and delicacy of a servant of Slaanesh with this statuesque miniature. To ensure that it arrives on the battlefield in all its splendour, we have designed this full-size foam insert. With a compartment tailored precisely to the miniature, it offers optimum protection for this finely detailed model. Not only the sensitive parts, such as the impaling claws or the sword, are safe from damage. Thanks to the precise cut, the figure does not slip around during transport. This also ensures that the colours of the painted miniature remain intact. The model fits into the compartment in every construction variant of the Keeper of Secrets - the Shalaxi Helbane model also fits into the compartment. 4 rectangular compartments remain in which you can store other larger miniatures. They are ideal for the Fiends and the Infernal Enraptureess, for example.
