Product Description

When the moon crashed to earth, almost everything was destroyed. Thanks to the Feldherr foam set, this doesn't apply to the contents of your "Tsukuyumi: Full Moon Down (Second Edition)-Miniatures Edition" base game box. The world hasn't been the same since the moon crashed to earth. The white dragon Tsukuyumi lurked at the centre of the satellite. Banished to the night sky thousands of years ago, its return has plunged the world into chaos and permanently changed its inhabitants. This Feldherr foam set confronts the destruction and ensures that your miniatures and the game material from "Tsukuyumi: Full Moon Down (Second Edition)-Miniatures Edition" arrive at the gaming table undamaged and organised. - The set fits into the original board game box of "Tsukuyumi: Full Moon Down (Second Edition)-Miniatures Edition" by Grey Fox Games and King Racoon Games. - It offers space for all plastic miniatures and for the entire game material of the base game. - The miniatures can be sorted by colour according to faction. This provides a better overview and makes sorting easier. - All cards also fit with protective sleeves. - The two large moon pieces, faction sheets, overview sheets, the victory point boards/initiative tracks, the rules booklet and the codex are stored separately on the foam lid. - The lid of the box stands approx. 3 cm above- Transport and tip-proof - Vertical storage possible. The set includes: - 1 foam insert for Nomad and Dark Seed miniatures + markers (FXMFBZ045BO)- 1 foam insert for Boarlord, Cyber Samurai and Oni miniatures (FXMFBY040BO)- 1 foam insert for territory pieces, markers and playing cards (FXMFBX050BO)- 1 foam lid. So you don't have to worry about your miniatures, we take care of their well-being and protection. So you can drive the white dragon back to the moon in peace. We have provided two inserts for the safety of your miniatures. Each model, whether Squeaker, Breeder, Shogun, Lt Dan or Oni, has a suitable compartment. No matter how bumpy the transport may be, the customised cut prevents your figures from sliding around. The soft, fine-pored foam reliably protects the sensitive parts from damage. Your painted miniatures are also spared colour abrasion and scratches. To make sorting easier, the inlays are designed so that you can place the figures of one faction next to each other. All Nomad and Dark Seed models can be stored in the insert with 57 compartments, while the Boarlords, Cyber Samurai and Oni can be stored in the insert with 64 compartments. Once your models have been safely sorted away, we'll contain the chaos in your box. The insert, which houses Nomads and Dark Seed, contains four large compartments for sorting the faction-specific markers of Nomads, Dark Seed, Oni and Cyber Samurai in addition to the compartments for the miniatures. A third foam insert with 13 matching compartments is available for the territory fields, home territories, playing cards and the remaining markers. Of course, the cards also fit into the insert with protective sleeves. The set is rounded off by the foam lid supplied. This ensures that nothing can fall out of the inserts or hit the lid of the board game box during transport. You can store the two large moon pieces, faction sheets, overview sheets, the victory point boards/initiative tracks, the rulebook and the codex on the foam lid. - fine-pored foam - Made in Germany- chlorine-free and acid-free
