Product Description

With the Edifice expansion for 7 Wonders - the connoisseur's game of the year 2011 - you can participate in joint building projects that bring you special advantages when completed. Participation is voluntary, but if a building project fails, you have to bear the consequences. Projects such as the Amphitheatre, the Belvedere and the City Archives offer new challenges and opportunities. For each age, one of the 15 building projects will be chosen for you to take part in when you complete a section of your Wonder of the World. In addition to the building projects, the expansion contains two new wonders of the world: Ur and Carthage (Carthage).

7 Wonders - Edifice is the perfect starter expansion, as it adds exciting new elements to the basic game while changing the rules only slightly. A basic game of 7 Wonders (old or new design) is required to play.
