Product Description

In the two-player variant Caverna: Cave vs. Cave of the expert game Caverna by successful author Uwe Rosenberg, you experience a direct exchange of blows between your dwarf tribes. Each round, you compete for action tiles that are urgently needed to expand your tribe's cave. You must continue to hollow out the mountain, build walls and furnish rooms. Collect emmer, flax and building materials. Besides, they wouldn't be dwarves if they couldn't also mine for all kinds of precious metals and thus increase their wealth. The tribal elder who has accumulated the most wealth after the last round wins the dwarf competition!

Caution. Not suitable for children under 36 months.
