Product Description

The world of Everdell continues to grow: With the stand-alone game Farshore - A game in the world of Everdell, players can now discover the land on Everdell's northern border. They also get to know four new marine animal species that can also be combined with Everdell: Crabs, beavers, ducks and puffins. Where the Pearlbrook River flows into the Eternal Sea, far far north of Everdell, live the creatures of Farshore. Round after round, players use their animals to collect driftwood, seaweed, gems and mushrooms, points and cards to build their own city on the shores of the Eternal Sea. If they lure the right creatures into their town at the right time, they not only receive points and effects, but can also move their sailing boat. They use it to explore the rugged coastline, always on the lookout for valuable treasure chests. As soon as all players have completed the year, the scoring begins. Whoever collects the most points via cards, shells, the sailing boat and treasure chests and cards wins. Important information! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
