Product Description

It's not just your opponents you have to watch out for in the Mirrored City, the terrain also harbours deadly threats. Only those who know how to use these obstacles and dangers to their advantage can control the game and thus the enemy. GamesWorkshop therefore offers the Arcane Hazards set, which depicts the decisive hexes in three dimensions and thus makes them easier to recognise. To store them neatly, we provide you with the matching half-size foam insert. Eight compartments are customised for all six terrain pieces from the "Arcane Perils" set. Wrapped in soft foam, the miniatures stay in place even on uneven paths and are optimally protected against transport and storage damage. The flame of the fire bowl continues to blaze uninterrupted and elaborately painted models return to the game board undamaged and without scratches. The terrain pieces are safely and clearly stowed away. Suddenly realising that a piece is missing when setting up the game is a thing of the past.
