Product Description

Before Han Solo made the Flying Falcon a legend with his modifications and flying skills, the ship also served the notorious gambler and smuggler Lando Calrissian well for over two years. He customised the lightweight YT-1300 freighter to suit his needs. To ensure that Lando's Falcon doesn't soon look like Han Solo's scrap heap, we have the matching foam mat for safe storage. The inlay is divided into 7 compartments, one of which is precisely tailored to Lando's Millennium Falcon. This fits in here with the docked escape pod. However, the capsule can also be stored separately from the ship in the small compartment specially designed for it. There is also a compartment for large bases and one for the manoeuvre wheels. The latter can be stored here with or without an upgrade. Small bases can also be stored in these compartments if required. 3 Further compartments provide space for additional miniatures, such as Y-wing models, or for game material. Details- High-quality, fine-pored foam - Made in Germany- Chlorine-free and acid-free Dimensions- 1 compartment: 58 mm long x 42 mm wide x 40 mm deep- 2 compartments with rounded corners: 71 mm long x 41 mm wide x 40 mm deep- Foam insert: 275 mm x 172 mm x 50 mm high (40 mm usable height + 10 mm foam base)
