Product Description

Are you in battle mode? Ready to vaporise your intergalactic opponents into stardust? In other words, are you itching to kick some ass in the Star Wars Rebellion / Rise of the Empire universe? Excellent! But before you rush into the fray, we recommend you keep a cool head and organise your forces first. After all, what could be worse than turning up at your mates' house, ready to get started, only to find your condition rings missing? Or you rummage in your rucksack for your X-wingers and find that the wings have broken off ... To prevent disasters like this, we at Feldherr have come up with something: With our Maxi - for Star Wars Rebellion + Rise of the Empire, you have the ability to store and transport all game components of both the board game and the expansion. And when we say ALL game components, we really mean ALL: X-wingers, TIE fighters, Death Stars, ion cannons, mission cards, objective markers, dice, etc ... The Maxi - for Star Wars Rebellion + Rise of the Empire consists of a total of four stackable, customised foam inserts, a foam lid and the Feldherr Maxi bag. All the foam inserts and even the game boards themselves fit comfortably in the extremely hard-wearing bag. One foam insert is reserved exclusively for Rebel miniatures, while a second is used exclusively to store Empire miniatures. The third insert has space for more Imperium miniatures and various game materials. Last but not least, the fourth tray can be used to neatly organise all other important game components such as dice and cards. May the Force be with you!
