Product Description

Awaken Realm's claustrophobic space horror is getting a grandiose sequel that will make your blood run cold. In addition to the horror in space, new heroes, enemies and lots of new game materials and adventures await you. To support you on your adventure, we have spared no effort and the result is the ideal companion for survival in space. The innovative plastic organiser helps you to sort the game materials from the basic game and ensures quick access to them. At the same time, care has been taken to ensure that your miniatures are well protected and survive the transport out into the world intact. - The organiser set fits perfectly into the "Nemesis: Lockdown base game box". - The organiser offers space for all the game material and all the cards of the base game. - Plastic card holders and card dividers make it easier for you to sort the playing cards. - All cards also fit with protective cover. All cards fit into the card holders even with protective sleeves. - Innovative combination of plastic insert and foam mats for compact and well-protected storage of smaller miniatures. - In addition, up to 3 books from the optionally available "Untold Stories" series can be packed into the set. Alternatively, you can place the supplied covers in the gap. - The game board, rulebook, room sheets and rules overview are stored on top of the plastic inserts. Scanner, character boards, Nightstalker board, Intruder bag, First Player token, Rover token are stored on the various foam lids. - The lid of the basic game box stands approx. 3 cm above - Transport and tilt-proof - Vertical storage possible - "Ready to Use" - No assembly required We can't fight the aliens for you, but we can take care of protecting your miniatures and organising your game material for you. Five card holders, eight token holders and 2 plastic figure containers, as well as 3 foam inserts will help you in your endeavours. Precisely fitting compartments for each figure ensure that your miniatures don't slide around and get damaged during transport. The combination of plastic containers and foam inserts makes it possible to pack the figures as compactly as possible and thus save a lot of space in the box. The soft, fine-pored foam provides reliable protection against details breaking off, scratches or chipped paint if you have painted your figures. Thanks to the cards and token holders, your game material remains neatly organised and you save yourself time-consuming pre-sorting before the game. Thanks to the included card holders, sorting the playing cards is also easier and you can keep track of your standard playing cards. All cards fit into the card slots, even with protective sleeves. To start the game quickly, take the various inserts out of the cardboard box and spread them out on the table. This way you have everything where you need it and your game material is quickly to hand. Well prepared in this way, you can show the aliens why they shouldn't mess with you.
