Product Description

Feldherr organiser for sorting all the game material of "The Iron Throne: The Board Game Second Edition" base game. With additional space for the "Mother of Dragons" expansion. Spinning intrigues, forming alliances, forging plots, betraying allies, preparing assassinations. The battle for the Iron Throne is a brutal game and one wrong decision can cost you your head. In this complex game, there are many pitfalls to avoid, no one to trust, weddings to avoid and your game material to control with an iron hand. This Feldherr Organiser will help you assert your claim to the throne. This is where you organise your game material and subjugate your board game box. In addition to the game materials of the basic game, the organiser also offers space for the "Mother of Dragons" expansion. - The organiser fits into the "The Iron Throne: The Board Game Second Edition" basic game box. The entire game material of the "The Iron Throne: The Board Game Second Edition" basic game can be stored in the token and card holders of the organiser set. - Each player receives their own tray with the required tokens in the colour of their house. - All playing cards fit in the card trays, even with protective foil. - The rulebooks, overview sheets, screens, royal court replacement track, influence track extension, Eyrie support, the game board, Essos side board and the sword ruler symbol are placed on the organiser. - If the organiser is only used with the basic game, the lid closes flush. If the game material from the "Mother of Dragons" expansion is also stored, the lid of the board game box will protrude approx. 1 cm. - Transport and tilt-proof - Vertical storage possible - "Ready to use" - No assembly required We have taken control of your board game box to ensure that your path is not paved with game material as well as corpses. The eight tokens and two card holders are clearly structured and allow the organiser to be sorted quickly. This saves you time-consuming pre-sorting and gives you more time to expand your spider's web of lies, intrigue and abuse of power and eliminate your rivals one by one. Each player gets their own token holder, which contains the appropriate game materials for their house. This allows you to see immediately if a token has gone astray or if a token is missing. To get the game started quickly, distribute the token holders to the players and place the card holders on the table. The battle for the Iron Throne can begin. The set consists of: - 8 plastic token holders with 6 compartments for small game material such as plastic units, power markers, supply markers, influence markers, command markers, victory point markers, naval command markers + dragon strength markers and Targaryen loyalty markers for House Targaryen. - 1 plastic card holder with 3 compartments for small cards such as bond cards and battle luck cards + game material such as garrison markers, neutral forces, wildling markers, turn markers, vassal command markers, markers for territory upgrading/downgrading, "Iron Throne" and "Raven" ruler symbols and the bite pad. - 1 plastic card holder with 4 compartments for normal-sized cards such as house cards, vassal preparation cards, vassal house cards and Westeros cards.
