Product Description

Are my parents Martians? Oh shock, all the adults have become Martians! They speak in a strange Martian language that sounds a bit like German but is much harder to understand. Sometimes they also point at things or behave strangely ... Can you help us understand them? The children's game Are my parents Martians? is a fun word guessing game in which the adults in the Martian team speak like aliens and the children in the human team have to translate. Speaking is made more difficult for the Martians by the fact that they are only allowed to explain child-friendly terms on the word cards using one-syllable words. If the children shout the correct term through the megaphone, everyone gets points! If not, the other Martians can have a go.
