Product Description

Game of Knowledge Card Game The classic quiz game "Game of Knowledge" is now available as a card game! The player who has collected the four different planet cards and answered the last question correctly is the winner. Half of the questions are easy, the other half more difficult, so players can decide for themselves - depending on their age - which questions to ask. The game comprises 50 large cards with 600 different questions. And this is how it works: 1. The question cards and the planet cards are shuffled. 2. The first player takes a card from the pile and asks his right-hand neighbour the question. 3. If he answers the question correctly, he can keep the card. If he answers the question incorrectly, the question card is returned to the bottom of the pile and the planet card is placed in a separate pile. 4. If a player has two planet cards of a planet, he may swap at a ratio of 2:1 for a card that he still needs. 5. The first player to own all 4 planet cards wins the game! Contents: - 50 large question cards with 12 questions per card - 26 general knowledge question cards - 24 planets, spread over four planets.
