Product Description

El Dorado, Shangri-La, Atlantis - names that evoke legends. Dreams of immeasurable wealth. Now you find yourself on an unexplored island and one name makes all the others fade away: Arnak! Many dangers await you on your search for the island's treasures and you can use all the help you can get. That's why this time we're not only providing you with a neatly organised basic game box, but also helping you on the playing field. The Feldherr Organiser offers space to neatly store all the game material from the basic game and the expansion "The Expedition Leader". In addition, it also ensures clear organisation on the game table. The organiser fits into the original base game box of "The Lost Ruins of Arnak". - It offers space for the entire game material of the base game and the expansion "The Expedition Leader". - Some trays serve as a storage solution, but they can also be used directly on the playing field as a game set-up aid. - Required game components can be sorted individually and placed in the appropriate places on the game board. This means they are always where you need them. - Each player receives a tray with the required game pieces and the matching cards in their colour. - All cards also fit with protective sleeves (max. outer dimensions: 68 mm x 94 mm). - The scoring pad, the double-sided player boards, expedition leader boards, research boards, the mystic research board, the large expedition leader info cards, as well as the double-sided supply board and the rulebook for "The Expedition Leaders" are stored separately on the trays. - The rulebook and the game board are stored on the foam lid. - "Ready to Use" - no assembly required

The organiser was designed with the base game and the expansion in mind and is best used with both. This way, all components have a secure fit and the box is safe to transport and tip over. It can then also be stored vertically. Of course, you can also store just the basic game in the box, in which case horizontal storage of the board game box is recommended. There are also 2 compartments and a card holder. While you explore the secrets of the island, we take care of the organisation in your basic game box. Thanks to the token and card holders, your box is organised and time-consuming pre-sorting is a thing of the past. This saves you time when setting up the game and means you have the essential game components quickly to hand. To start the game quickly, simply place the individually removable trays on the table and on the game board. Now you can jump straight into the adventure.

The set includes:- 4 token holders with a compartment for base cards, archaeologist figures, research markers (assorted colours)- 1 token holder with 2 compartments for reserve tiles, blocking markers- 1 token holder with 2 compartments for totem tiles, research bonus tiles- 1 token holder, high, with one compartment for level 1 location tokens- 1 token holder, high, with one compartment for guard tokens- 1 token holder, high, with one compartment for level 2 location tokens- 6 token holders, flat, stackable, each with one compartment for markers (coin markers, compass markers, stone tablets, arrowheads, jewels, accessories for expedition leaders + role markers)- 1 token holder with 7 compartments for assistant tokens and unused research markers- 1 token holder with 6 compartments for temple tokens- 1 flat token holder with 2 compartments for moon staff, starting player markers, tent tokens- 1 tall token holder with a compartment for opponent action tokens for the solo game- 2 card holders, each with a compartment for artefact cards, Item cards- 2 flat card holders, each with a compartment for fear cards or expedition leader cards- 1 foam cover

To ensure that you always have an overview of your resources and that the individual tokens and tiles stay in place, place the various trays on the supply board according to the symbols. You can also place the insert with the helper tiles on the board. Place the card holders with the artefact and item cards, as well as the fear cards, on the matching symbols at the head of the game board. The insert with the temple tiles can be used on the research board of the basic game or on the research board of the expansion. After the game, store the various trays back in the basic game box. Once all the trays have been placed in the board game box, place the scoring pad, the double-sided player boards, expedition leader boards, mystic research board, research boards, large expedition leader info cards, double-sided supply board and the rules booklet for "The Expedition Leader" on the plastic trays. Finally, place the game board and the rules booklet on the foam lid provided and close everything with the lid of the box. If you store both the basic game and the expansion together, then all the elements are firmly in place and the box is safe to transport and cannot tip over. It can then also be stored vertically. If you only store the basic game in the box, then horizontal storage of the board game box is recommended. It also leaves 2 compartments and a card holder free. - high-quality, fine-pored foam- chlorine-free and acid-free- Made in Germany As with all 3D-printed models, there may be minor imperfections.
