Product Description

Dune The Role-Playing Game: Adventures in the Empire - Players' Journal

Even as this thought flitted through her mind, she bent down to look for the hidden message. There had to be one. The visible message contained those code words that one Bene Gesserit, who was not bound by a decree of the school, had to send to another Bene Gesserit when circumstances demanded it: 'On this path lies danger.'

Secrets are the most powerful weapons in the Empire. Codes and messages are hidden in the most innocuous glance or casual sentence. The secrets you learn can save your life or your home, so guard them carefully.
