Product Description

Earthdawn: Dance with the Serpent - Campaign Book (DE Edition)

The Galanga is a peaceful tributary of the Serpent, a place where adventurers, or travellers for that matter, rarely find themselves. At the same time, however, it is also a place full of mystical secrets, ancient customs and traditions. There is a saying that if you do not know the snake, you should not dance with it, and at the Galanga you can dance with it. The nials of the Tskrang there follow the Atlosh tzdram, the great game Alliances at the Galanga come and go, dangers lurk on all paths and the jungle devours all those who strive for heroism and seek legends.

Dance with the Serpent is a three-part adventure campaign on the Galanga, a branch of the Serpent River. The characters inadvertently get into a conflict between different nials of the Tskrang and in order to get out of the situation in one piece, they have to find allies and help them to stop the brewing war before it is too late. They meet the Shamans of the Serpent, a kind of questors of the river spirit Shivoam, whose story still brings many a challenge. They will discover the secrets behind the conflict, meet a group of legendary Tskrang and get to know places that no namesake has seen for centuries. If they can indeed defeat the emerging threat, they will have truly danced with the snake.

Dance with the Serpent is aimed at a group of Fourth Circle adepts.
