Product Description

Just when things seemed to be calming down, things only got worse: first, the zombie plague even attacked the statues in the city. Then the city walls, which were once considered safe, were also attacked by climbing zombies. The Zombicide: White Death - Climbers & Terrorcotta Walker expansion contains 30 new miniatures that bring two completely new types of enemies to the board to make the game experience even more exciting. In addition to the Climbers, who can climb over the previously safe city walls, a whole new army of zombies is awakening: the Terrorcotta Walkers. These not only infect the city's statues, but can also reform as soon as more Terrorcotta Walkers are in the vicinity. A game from the Zombicide Fantasy line is required to play the expansion.
