Product Description

Adding fearsome weaponry to the steadfast Unsullied makes them a truly unbreakable formation. Despite their light armour, their wall of spears can take up virtually any position without fear of counter-attacks from the flanks or even the rear. Whilst such a formation appears to be immune to cavalry, it would be advisable for a commander not to let them march without support. However, if any unit can survive a short-term encirclement, it is the Unsullied Pikemen. The A Song of Ice & Fire - Unsullied Pikemen unit box provides House Targaryen players with a powerful melee unit on the field. Despite their light armour, the Unsullied, who advance in lockstep according to the doctrines of the Old Kingdom of Ghis, need fear no attack.
