Product Description

Dealing with numbers is a central theme in children's development. With "Hamsters from 1 to 10", children from the age of 3 can easily learn to count to ten. In a playful way, of course, because the aim is to help the cute hamsters collect supplies. To do this, the path to the delicacies marked in white on the game board must be covered with the matching coloured sticks. There are a total of 40 coloured sticks of different lengths to choose from, with values from 1 to 10. This fun tactical game about the decimal system promotes children's logical and mathematical thinking and is therefore - in the usual Goula style - educationally valuable.
