Product Description

Item no.: 510004703 Item no.: 1:12 Fiat 500F (1968 version) The stand model is a replica of the 1968 Fiat 500F. The "Nuova 500" was produced by Fiat from 1957 to 1975. It is a true icon on four wheels and one of the symbols of "Made in Italy". Its unique and recognisable design is known all over the world. When the small car was created by the Italian car manufacturer, its aim was simple: to bring a new compact car onto the market at a very favourable price that would increase the number of potential customers. In addition, the new car also had to be easy to drive in city traffic and offer very low running costs. The "Fiat 500" was launched in July 1957 and was an immediate success. In 1965, the 500F was introduced, the version with the largest number of units produced. The Fiat 500F is easily recognisable for its front gullwing doors in accordance with the new laws and has adopted several technically and aesthetically improved solutions as its new frame and wider windscreen. The Fiat 500F is still the most "classic" version of the entire 500 production and remains in the hearts of a large number of car fans.
