Product Description

The resource expansion to Q.E., included on the 2023 Game of the Year recommendation list, brings even more depth to the game. There are now 3 new speculative goods that the second highest bidder in each auction can win, each with its own fluctuating market. In addition, the new mechanic allows players to reduce their total spending, making it even more challenging to keep track of who has spent the most. THIS EXPANSION CANNOT BE PLAYED WITHOUT THE BASIC GAME: Q.E. - Complexity: Family game- Players: 3-5- Age: 10+- Duration: 30 min. What makes the game special? / Why is it published by Strohmann Games? Q.E. is a great experience in itself. The expansion takes it to the next level. Now that the second-highest bidder also gets something, the probability of going away empty-handed has decreased and sometimes you'd even rather get a resource than win the auctioned company tile.
