Product Description

You work in the garden of a moody and fickle king who has his own idea of what a beautiful garden should look like. He has a habit of telling his entourage his instructions for the garden one by one. What's more, the king constantly forgets everything - once you have finally fulfilled his expectations, you can start all over again! Gardeners is a co-operative real-time game in which you play simultaneously and are not allowed to talk. While the hourglass runs out, you try to create as many gardens as possible with the same tiles. You have to follow different rules in each round.
