Product Description

A game of Keyside is played over 3 rounds, which always consist of landing and harbour action. During a landing, the active player places a die and moves the boat into the harbour, whereby other players can follow him, giving them a presence in this harbour. During the harbour action, a harbour on which a worker of the active player is located is dealt with. Each player present there now receives advantages, such as resources, animals, the option to build, etc. However, players only receive points for criteria that are also in demand in harbours with their workers. And the more workers, the more points. And the most points win! Keyside combines dice manipulation, worker deployment, action sequence and set collection to create a fresh, exciting connoisseur game. - New connoisseur game in the Key series - Combines dice manipulation, worker placement, action sequence and set collection
