Product Description

Bronze - Ccard game, for 2-4 players, from 10 Years (DE Edition)

At the onset of the Bronze Age, your people will face a rocky road. Are you going to lay the foundations for a bright future and let your civilization go down in history?

In the family strategy game Bronze by Konstantin Domashev there is not enough space for all peoples of all 2 to 4 players, ages 12 and up. They have to choose their actions carefully so as not to be left out. Bit by bit, the players explore the country and develop new areas in which they can settle.

But it is not enough to spread out into the prehistoric lands to put your stamp on the history books. Invent the wheel, tame animals, shape pots out of clay, master the basics of architecture and lay the foundation for your state.

The modular playing field of Bronze is divided into 7 regions, such as mountains, savannas, coasts and rainforest. By collecting and using technology cards, the players establish settlements and try to gain superiority in the individual landscapes and parts of the playing field. Only the trade routes are even more fiercely contested ...

Lead your people through the Bronze Age and into the annals of history!
