Product Description

Honey Buzz - Autumn abundance expansion-Business continues to buzz. Even in autumn! 1 - 4 players / ages 10+ / playing time approx. 60 minutes The game is in German. Honey Buzz - Herbstfülle is an expansion and cannot be played without the base game Honey Buzz. A game by - Paul Salomon and artwork by Anne Heidsieck. The Sweetwater Grove is a hive of activity, and all the forest dwellers have honey in their mouths and on their minds. Thanks to the hard work of bookkeepers like you, the queen's honey stand is a great success. But now autumn has arrived and winter is just around the corner! Her Majesty has given her workers new tasks: harvest and sell the fruits of autumn, decorate the hive with colourful autumn leaves, collect and store the nectar for the winter and send the departing workers to the harvest festival before the sun sets on Sweetwater Grove. The following modules are available in Honey Buzz: Fall Flavors: - Autumn Fruit Module - collect apples, pears and pumpkins and sell them at the market. Or save them up to fulfil special orders for honey-dipped fruit. - Autumn leaves module - collect colourful leaves to decorate the hive according to the queen's specifications. - Nectar lid module - seal the nectar cells to prepare them for winter. Nectar caps are worth a lot of points, but they slow down your economy because capped nectar discs can't produce honey! - Harvest Festival module - reduce the number of your labourers by sending them into retirement at Harvest Festival and benefiting from their skill and hard work one last time - Sweetwater Sunset - the new sunset board shows the progress of the game. When the sun sets over Sweetwater Grove, winter is here and the game ends.
