Only this one card has a horizontal image division. Tarocke II to XXI show touristically developed areas from Austrian mountain regions across the entire width of the picture. In each case, an accommodation option for the weary hiker is at the centre. In almost all scenes, tourists can be found in the midst of an imposing mountain backdrop, as in a search picture. The double images on the skys and the court cards are divided diagonally. Text from: Klaus Reisinger, Kulturgeschichte auf Kartenbildern, Vienna 1996 Wiener Spielkartenfabrik Ferd. Piatnik & Söhne.
