Product Description

Fun party game that EVERYONE understands! One of you comes up with the fabulous idea of livening up the round with a game that everyone can take part in. Before the first people start complaining that the rules are far too complicated, you unpack the trophies. It couldn't be easier! You grab a card, choose a category and as soon as you have named the category, the others throw the most suitable terms at you. Not just any terms, but carefully selected terms! They have to start with the letter given by another card. Because that's the law! - for 2-30 people - ages 8+
