

Item no.: 382789

57805E - Corrosion Deep Print Games English Edition GB

from 22,25 EUR

Item no.: 382789
shipping weight: 1.90 kg Manufacturer: Pegasus Spiele

Product Description

Sounds of clanking metal and rattling machines in the air filled with water vapour. This is what makes the entrepreneurial heart of the players beat faster. In Corrosion, you manage an old factory and build up varied production combinations. Their biggest threat is time, because corrosion is the enemy of their machines. It is therefore also their task to produce stainless chrome gears for high-performance chrome machines. To do this, they must skilfully use their engineers to obtain new machines or engineers, or they turn the rust wheel to activate their machines. However, they should always pay attention to their older machines and cogwheels, as these will rust when the rust wheel is turned. In Corrosion, players discover temporary and long-term combinations for balanced, efficient production and receive awards to outdo the other factory operators. Corrosion is an innovative, top-class temporary engine builder by game designer Stefan Bauer with atmospheric artwork by Dennis Lohausen. Experienced game and expert groups as well as solo players can expect a challenging game that requires clever planning and sophisticated interaction. Changing starting conditions constantly open up new paths to victory. Warning! Not suitable for children under 36 months.

Specifications

Scan this QR code to view the product
All details, up-to-date
prices and availability

