Product Description

EXIT puzzle: observatory, 759 pieces, from 12 years

During an evening walk you discover a strange light in the sky. Out of curiosity, you go to the library to inquire about the astronomy department. When you pick up a textbook, a piece of paper falls out - with an alarming message: A meteorite is racing towards the earth, and only you can prevent a collision!

Exit rooms are the live game trend and have long been a source of enthusiasm around the world. The idea: several players can be locked in a room to complete a mission. To do this, they have to solve puzzles that are hidden in the room. This game principle forms the basis for a completely new variant of the puzzle: the EXIT PUZZLE. If all 759 parts are in their place, talent for combination, imagination and intuition are required! Just like the live gamers in the Exit Rooms, the Exit Puzzlers also immerse themselves in an exciting story that takes them into mysterious worlds. But you can only become a hero of history if you - piece by piece - crack the last big puzzle and thus find your exit.

Warning! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
