Product Description

EXIT puzzle: In the submarine, 759 pieces, ages 14+

Exit rooms are the live game trend and have long been a source of enthusiasm around the world. The idea: several players can be locked in a room to complete a mission. To do this, they have to solve puzzles that are hidden in the room. This game principle forms the basis for a completely new variant of the puzzle: the EXIT PUZZLE. If all 759 parts are in their place, talent for combination, imagination and intuition are required! Just like the live gamers in the Exit Rooms, the Exit Puzzlers also immerse themselves in an exciting story that takes them into mysterious worlds. But you can only become a hero of history if you - piece by piece - crack the last big puzzle and thus find your exit.

You are cruising the Caribbean. In the port of Puerto Rico you meet an old man who is working on a mysterious water vehicle. As it turns out, it is a self-built submarine with which he plans to dive for sunken wrecks. When he offers you to take a dive in his place, you enthusiastically consent. But then the accident happens: the boat breaks down and you sink uncontrollably to the seabed. In all this chaos, will you find the right parts to get the machines going again or end up miserably as shark food?

Caution: Not suitable for children under 36 months.
