Product Description

Carnegie - Board game, for 1 to 4 players aged 12+ (DE/EN edition).

Carnegie was inspired by the life of Andrew Carnegie, who was a major player in the United States' steel industry. Carnegie was not just one of the richest men in the world; he was also a philanthropist and supporter of social causes.

In this elegant and interactive management game, players compete to grow their companies through shrewd investments in real estate, industry, and transportation. Through careful observation of their opponents' choices, players will find ways to take sole advantage of lucrative opportunities. In the end, the most successful player will be victorious - but success is judged by more than one's wealth. To win, players must also contribute to the country's greatness through their deeds and generosity. Are you ready for the challenge?

Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.

- Players: For 1 to 4 players aged 12+
