Product Description

Find words and form the longest possible word queue: In this entertaining family game, one to six players search for the right words for a category in their own letter grid. Is the word particularly long? That gives you lots of points! But be careful: longer words also mean less space on the letter grid. It gets trickier from round to round to place your own words. Who can form the longest line of words without getting in their own way? Compact and always with you - the ideal game for on the go. For the whole family from the age of ten. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
