Product Description

A good theme needs a good sequel ... after the resounding success of Halloween (2020), the return to Halloween inevitably follows! Once again, the players are confronted with horror in a variety of forms:

Useless at HalloweenA harmless prank brings uninvited guests to a fraternity's Halloween party at Miskatonic University. The Investigators, as stereotypical students, are asked to solve the prank and may encounter a surprisingly civilised mummy. (1920s, black humour)

The Masks of HalloweenHalloween festivities in Willowton are visited by a mask of Nyarlathotep. Pumpkins, a corn maze, a hot graduation party in a barn ... missing pets, missing people ... Investigators may come face to face with the ghoulish Jack O'Lantern himself at the end of their investigation. (1920s, classic)

Halloween CandyAn abysmally bad person triggers a zombie disaster in Cogan Springs with prepared candy. The exceptionally disgusting circumstances of both a mundane and supernatural nature make it difficult for the investigators to gain the upper hand, even though they are best equipped to do so as agents and operatives of Homeland Security. (2006, Survival)

Note: This adventure contains (sexualised) violence towards children.
