Product Description

Are you ready to find out how friends and acquaintances rate you? Who in the room is most likely to pee in the shower, and who in the room has the best radio voice? Who in the room would look in other people's bathroom cabinets, and who would take the longest to put together an IKEA bookshelf? Do you think you know what other people think about you? Are you sure that your friends see you with the same eyes as you see yourself? This game might just change the way you see yourself! Who in the room? is a really fun and engaging party and dinner game that contrasts the way we see ourselves with the way others see us. A perfect way to find out more about yourself and your friends in a fun way! ? The game contains over 300 embarrassing, funny and provocative questions, all starting with Who in the room? Here's how it works: Pick a card and read the first question out loud. Let everyone in the group think for a moment, count to three and have everyone in the room point to the person they think the statement most likely applies to. You can be prepared for surprises... Who in the room...? is a great game for dinner parties and wine evenings and a super gift for any occasion! Important information Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
