Product Description

DESCRIPTION Numbers by the metre. THE MATHEMATICAL CENTRAL STICK In addition to the millimetre scale, the double-sided printed metre rule offers interesting and surprising facts from the world of numbers and formulae. The hornbeam folding rule made in Germany highlights the achievements of the brightest minds in maths. From Pythagoras to Archimedes and Gauss to the Indian number genius Ramanujan, the Maths Folding Rule shows the achievements of the brightest minds in mathematics. Of course, David Hilbert, who presented 23 then unsolved problems at the 1900 World Congress of Mathematicians in Paris, which were to characterise the mathematics of the 20th century, should not be missing. What are the mathematical characteristics of numbers? What are the most important number ranges, number systems and formulae? From the golden ratio to the hectolitre, the maths folding rule covers an attractive range that is aimed at everyone who is interested in numbers - our new folding rule is not just an object for specialists! Important information Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
