Product Description

History by the metre. DER HISTORISCHE ZOLLSTOCK manages to visualise the history of the last 2000 years in two ways. On the event side, selectively, collaged and jumping between cultural areas. On the epoch side, clarifying the connections: linear, superordinate, history as the result of all the forces at work in it. The sum of both parts provides an illuminating insight into history since the beginning of our time count. On the events page, every centimetre contains ten years of history. Here are the most important historical dates, from the Romans to the present day, from Jesus Christ to the Internet. On the reverse side is the epoch page. Here, world history is divided into the main epochs. In front of the superordinate terms (LATE ANTIQUE to MODERN), the folding rule conveys thinking in epochs, divided into the categories of spirit, power and art. The historical folding rule is a German top-quality folding rule made of hornbeam, the trees in the Black Forest are being reforested. This folding rule for space and time is a sought-after premium incentive for many companies. A slogan, lettering or logo can be printed on the sides. This makes the double-sided metre rule a suitable item for anniversaries, events or as an official promotional gift for your customers, partners and friends. Important information Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
